

2011 NJCL Convention
Latin 1/2 and 1 Grammar Test

1. Anna gave the sailor a kiss.
A. nautae                      B. nauta                      C. nautam                      D. nautā
2. The gladiator killed the lion.
A. leō                              B. leōnī                      C. leōnis                      D. leōnem
3. The ship sailed toward the island.
A. prope īnsulam              B. ab īnsulā                      C. ex īnsulā                      D. ad īnsulam
4. Clara was a very beautiful girl.
A. pulcherrima                      B. pulchriōrem                      C. pulchram                      D. pulcher
5. Claudia went to the forum.
A. Claudiae                      B. Claudia                      C. Claudiam                      D. Claudiā
6. The boys had remained home.
A. mānserant                      B. mānsērunt                      C. manent                      D. manēbant
7. The general was shorter than the centurion.
A. breviōrem                      B. brevis                      C. brevem                      D. brevior
8. I had told the senator the story.
A. narrō                              B. narrābam                      C. narrāveram                      D. narrāverō
9. In the house, the cook was preparing dinner.
A. ā villā                              B. in villā                      C. in villam                      D. ē villā
10. The soldiers will attack the city.
A. oppugnant                      B. oppugnāvērunt                      C. oppugnābant                      D. oppugnābunt
11. Marcellus handed the boy the book.
A. puer                              B. puerō                              C. puerum                      D. puerī
12. Marcus is the son of a merchant.
A. Marcus                              B. Marcō                              C. Marcum                      D. Marcī
13. Marcus wanted to return home.
A. rediisse                              B. redīre                              C. redit                              D. redierat
14. Metella was able to come to the party.
A. venit                              B. veniēbat                      C. venīre                              D. vēnisse
15. The cook was preparing dinner.
A. parat                              B. parābit                              C. parābat                              D. parāvit
16. The slave girl will sing a song.
A. canet                              B. canit                              C. canēbat                              D. canat
17. The teacher saw the boy's mother in the forum.
A. puer                              B. puerum                              C. puerī                              D. puerō
18. We ordered the soldier to leave.
A. iubēbimus                      B. iusserāmus                      C. iubēmus                      D. iussimus
19. The boys are swimming in the sea.
A. natābant                      B. natāvērunt                      C. natant                      D. natāverint
20. The very happy general announced the victory.
A. laetior                              B. laetus                              C. laetum                              D. laetissimus
21. The merchant's tunic was torn.
A. mercator                      B. mercatōrem                      C. mercatōris                      D. mercatōrī
22. You (pl) remained on the ship for three days.
A. manētis                      B. mānsistis                      C. mānserātis                      D. manēbātis
23. You are working in the garden.
A. labōrābās                      B. labōrāvistī                      C. labōrās                      D. labōrā

24. The boy jumped into the water.
 A. in aquam                      B. in aquā                      C. ex aquā                      D. sub aquā
25. The servant climbed the tree.
 A. arbor                              B. arborem                      C. arborēs                      D. arbore
26. The boys had been in town all day
 A. fuērunt                              B. fuerant                      C. erant                              D. erunt
27. Slaves, work in the fields!
 A. laborāte                              B. laborātis                      C. laborā                              D. laborās
28. Sons, listen to your father!
 A. filius                              B. fili                              C. filiī                              D. filiōs
29. Metella saw the boy Marcus in the forum.
 A. Marcus                              B. Marcō                              C. Marce                              D. Marcum
30. Marcus, come here!
 A. Marcus                              B. Marcō                              C. Marce                              D. Marcum
31. Anna will be able to go to Athens.
 A. poterit                              B. potuerit                              C. posse                              D. potest
32. Soldiers, lead the fight!
 A. dūcis                              B. dūc                              C. dūcitis                              D. dūcite
33. Anna's mother Metella was searching for her.
 A. Metellae                              B. Metella                              C. Metellam                              D. Metellā
34. He wrote the letter with his right hand.
 A. cum manū dextrā                      B. manū dextrā                      C. manum dextram                      D. manus dextra
35. Anna gave him a gift.
 A. eum                              B. eius                              C. eī                              D. is
36. The boys will have finished school in the spring.
 A. confēcerint                              B. conficient                              C. confēcerant                              D. conficiunt
37. The general sent his best soldiers on the mission.
 A. mīlitem optimum                      B. mīlitēs optimī                      C. mīlitēs optimōs                      D. mīles optimus
38. Quintus was absent from the line.
 A. aderat                              B. aberat                              C. adest                              D. abest
39. On the next day, the men set out to Rome.
 A. maximō diē                              B. longissimō diē                              C. hodiē                              D. proximō diē
40. We had seen the play before.
 A. vidēmus                              B. vīderimus                              C. vīderāmus                              D. vidēbāmus
41. You all need to attend the dinner.
 A. tū                              B. vōs                              C. tē                              D. nōs
42. They were going to the theater.
 A. is                              B. eum                              C. eōs                              D. eī
43. I shall read the whole story.
 A. legam                              B. legō                              C. legēbam                              D. legerem
44. The sailors went to the tavern for dinner.
 A. eunt                              B. īvērunt                              C. iēbant                              D. īverant
45. Marcus hurt himself in the baths.
 A. sē                              B. ipse                              C. sibi                              D. ipsum
46. The messenger will announce the victory to the people.
 A. nūntiābat                              B. nūntiāverit                              C. nūntiābit                              D. nūntiāvit
47. The tall man went into the baths.
 A. altī virī                              B. altum virum                              C. altus vir                              D. altōs virōs
48. The boys were wanting to attend the gladiatorial games.
 A. volunt                              B. voluērunt                              C. voluerant                              D. volēbant
49. The soldier gave the dirty old man some money.
 A. senex sordidus                              B. senī sordidō                              C. senem sordidum                              D. senibus sordidīs

50. I am writing a book.
 A. scrībō                                      B. scrībēbam                                      C. scrībam                                      D. scrībe
51. Imperfect active subjunctive
 A. expugnent                                      B. expugnārent                                      C. expugnāverant                                      D. expugnāvissent
52. Future passive indicative
 A. audiar                                      B. audier                                      C. audiam                                      D. audias
53. Perfect active infinitive of ferre
 A. ferre                                      B. fore                                      C. tulisse                                      D. latus
54. The imperfect tense of esse
 A. eram                                      B. fueram                                      C. fuī                                      D. sum
55. The future active indicative of laudare
 A. laudāvī                                      B. laudābam                                      C. laudabō                                      D. laudāre
56. The positive adverbial form of facilis
 A. facilius                                      B. facile                                      C. facilis                                      D. facillimē
57. The comparative of malum, keeping the same gender
 A. peior                                      B. melius                                      C. melior                                      D. peius
58. Which adjective does NOT double the letter -l to form the superlative?
 A. nobilis                                      B. gracilis                                      C. similis                                      D. difficilis
59. What is the superlative of pulcher (same gender)?
 A. pulcherrimum                                      B. pulchrior                                      C. pulcherrimus                                      D. pulchrius
60. The comparative of bonus
 A. melior                                      B. peior                                      C. optimus                                      D. malus
61. The dative case of the adjective mille
 A. milia                                      B. milium                                      C. milibus                                      D. mille
62. Consul cum (one hundred) virīs vēnit.
 A. mille                                      B. centum                                      C. milibus                                      D. centī
63. I have two eyes.
 A. duo oculōs habeō                                      B. erant mē duōs oculī                                      C. duōs oculōs mihi sunt                                      D. bīnī oculī mihi sunt
64. Quam dulcis est libertās!
 A. whom                                      B. what                                      C. how                                      D. than
65. Which of the following is not used to introduce a question?
 A. nam                                      B. -ne                                      C. num                                      D. nonne
66. The soldier, whom he saw, was fighting.
 A. quī                                      B. quem                                      C. quam                                      D. quōs
67. The farmer hurt himself.
 A. suum                                      B. eum                                      C. eundem                                      D. sē
68. The genitive singular feminine of ille
 A. illae                                      B. illīus                                      C. illārum                                      D. illī
69. She did this herself.
 A. ipsa                                      B. ea                                      C. sē                                      D. eadem
70. The consul came with 200 men.
 A. ducentīs                                      B. duo centum                                      C. duo milia                                      D. vīgintī centum
71. Did you see the boys running behind the house?
 A. currentem                                      B. cursōs                                      C. currentēs                                      D. cursūrōs
72. A relative pronoun must agree with its antecedent in
 A. case and gender                                      B. number and case                                      C. number only                                      D. gender and number
73. The accusative plural masculine of is
 A. eum                                      B. eās                                      C. ea                                      D. eōs
74. Which of the following means that . . . of yours?
 A. iste                                      B. hic                                      C. ille                                      D. tuus
75. The present passive infinitive of dūcō
 A. dūxī                                      B. dūcere                                      C. dūcī                                      D. ductum esse

76. Quis _____ victōriam nūntiāverat?
 A. eum B. eī C. eae D. eō
77. inter _____
 A. mūrum B. mūrōs C. mūrō D. mūrīs
78. The merchants trust the senators.
 A. senātōribus B. senātōrēs C. senātōrī D. senātōrem
79. The accusative singular feminine of hic
 A. hanc B. hārum C. hāc D. hās
80. Brutus killed Caesar with a sword.
 A. cum gladium B. ad gladium C. gladiīs D. gladiō
81. Identify the form iungī
 A. singular active imperative C. present passive infinitive
 B. singular passive imperative D. present active infinitive
82. Which of the following does NOT take an accusative?
 A. in B. prō C. sub D. ad
83. The soldier, fighting bravely, was wounded.
 A. pugnātus B. pugnātō C. pugnantēs D. pugnāns
84. Dīxit sē dōna mittere.
 A. sent B. will send C. had sent D. must send
85. (To whom) litterās das?
 A. ad quam B. ad quem C. cui D. quōs
86. apud _____
 A. rēx B. rēgis C. rēgī D. rēgem
87. Caesar will arrive within a few days.
 A. paucās diēs B. paucīs diēbus C. in paucōs diēs D. in paucīs diēbus
88. The girl was lying on the ground.
 A. humī B. humae C. ad humum D. de humō
89. Nautae in insulā (for four days) morātī sunt.
 A. quattuor diēbus B. quattuor diēs C. prō quattuor diēbus D. quattuor diērum
90. Cicero ipse amīcōs laudāvit.
 A. him B. her C. himself D. themselves
91. The perfect passive participle of audiō
 A. audiēns B. audī C. audītūrus D. audītus
92. They praised Caesar, the consul.
 A. cōnsule B. cōnsul C. cōnsulī D. cōnsulem
93. Hodiē _____ nōn ūtimur.
 A. librīs B. librōs C. librī D. ex librīs
94. Which of the following forms is a vocative singular form?
 A. Brūtus B. Cicerōnī C. fīlī D. puerī
95. Marcus has a sword. Marcō est _____.
 A. gladius B. gladium C. gladiō D. gladī
96. In winter, days are short.
 A. in hieme B. hiemēs C. hieme D. in hiemem
97. They persuaded us to call.
 A. nōs B. vōs C. vōbīs D. nōbīs
98. Which of the following prepositions always takes the accusative case?
 A. dē B. ad C. in D. ex
99. The present participle of laudō
 A. laudāns B. laudāre C. laudātus D. laudātūrus
100. Don't stay here, boys! _____, puerī, hīc manēre!
 A. Nē B. Ut nōn C. Nōnne D. Nolīte