Questions 96-100 are based on the following passage adapted from Plautus' Amphitruo:

Ego sum ille Amphitruo, cui est servus Sosia, 861
idem Mercurius qui fit, quando commodum est,
in superiore qui habito cenaculo,
qui interdum fio Iuppiter, quando lubet;
huc autem cum extemplo adventum adporto, ilico 865 Amphitruo fio et vestitum immuto meum.
nunc huc honoris vestri venio gratia,
ne hanc incohatam transigam comoediam;
simul Alcumenae, quam vir insontem probri Amphitruo accusat, veni ut auxilium feram: 870 nam mea sit culpa, quod egomet contraxerim, si id Alcumenae innocenti expetat.
nunc Amphitruonem memet, ut ocepi semel, esse adsimulabo, atque in horum familiam frustrationem hodie iniciam maximam; 875 post igitur demum faciam res fiat palam atque Alcumenae in tempore auxilium feram faciamque ut uno fetu et quod gravida est viro et me quod gravida est pariat sine doloribus.
Mercurium iussi me continuo consequi, 880
si quid vellem imperare. nunc hanc adloquar.
